Hurd is selling lots of the theap editions of Scott's and Dickeus' novels. They entertain, delight, instruct, and cost but a trifle. "The Tale of Two Cities," is the very best of Dickens' short stories, and the "Mounstery" one of the most enchanting of Scott's historical romances

-Notwithstanding the great ontery about the destructiveness to truit by the frost a short time ago, it now apdears that the yield will be abundunt, unless some new reason to the contrary arises. Throughout the West the peach crop promises well, and the senson is progressing tavorably in almost every respect.

-We present to day, a letter from Mr. G. 8. Stewart, concerning the accident on the Alle glieny road on Monday last, which will be read with interest. It was received at too late an hour for present comment. The injuries sustained by Mr. Stewart and his wife will disable them from under taking the Journey home for several days, but are not of a serious character, as we are in--A new distillery has just been finished at Monongaliola city, which cost twenty-five thousand dollars or more, fronting thine feet on the river, running fifty-two feet back, built of lake colored sand stone, with a capacity of one hundred bushels per day. The Republican gives a column description of it, and in another column gives the gratifying intelligence that the order of Good Templars is not a failure in that locality.

-The result of the recent elections is the Bouthern States is summed up as follows: In every one of the original secession States a very large white vote has been cast for radicals; the to present themselves as candidates for office not a negro has come forward for Congress, th beary majorities in all except Arkensos, cast for the Republicans, secure the electoral votes

The Allegheny Valley Rulroad Company have for some time had a large force working east of Brookville, at the main tunnel, on the extension of their road from the Allegheny rive at the mouth of the Mahoning, castward to the Susquehanna. The Pennsylvania Railroad Comnany, it is said, have also set a few men to wor n the same region apparently in hope to prevent the construction of a second line to Philadelphi and New York, except under their own auspices

—The Franchise clause of the new Mississipp Constitution allows nearly all to vote, with the single exception of those holding office prior to the rebellion and who then described the Union and aided in trying to erect the Confederate Government. It disqualities to hold office, all who hel office civil or military in the so-called Confeder ate Government, providing that the Legislatur may at any time remove said disabilities. On the 4th, of July, 1876, all shall be relieved, and general amucaty shall obtain. No test onth is required, as it is hold that all test oaths are un nopular and demoralizing.

BARNUM'S CURRIOSITIES,-Corinthian Hall was visited yesterday afternoon and evening by large numbers of ladies and gentlemen, who improved the opportunity offered to gaze upon the collection of living coriositier, that escaped the late fire at Barnum's Museum, and are now mak lng a tour of this continent preparatory to leaving for Europe. Unlike the title sometimes ap plied to the irrepressible Barnum, this exhibition is all that it advertises to be and no humbing Miss Swan the Giantess, and Miss Adelia Powers are considerable more than "our lancy painted The Circassian Beauties do not look as if they pined much for their native mountains and it is rumored that when they were about to be sold into a life of slavery an old cross-eyed Turk and Barnumn's agent were bidding against cach other—the one for his Harem on the Bosphorus, the other for Phinness and his Museum and through the potent influence of Uncle Sam's greenbacks, the latter became the parchaser, and instead of spending their iffee in bringg opium and "bash heisch" to the lord of the "Scraglio," they are now here, and are well remed in lierature, and happy. A Candidate for Associate Judge. Mr. E. H. Chase, of this city, is a candidate for the nomination, by the Republican, party, to the office of Associate Judgo in this County, and the annoncement will be very gratifying to the numerous friends of that gentleman, and unques, tionably acceptable to the party at large. The terms of both the present Associate Judges of torus of total and present measurements are this County expire this year. The incumbents are Wm. Davis jr., of Mondville, and W. S. Crozier, of Conneautville, No side Judge in Crawford county has ever been taken from this section of the county since the adoption of our State Constitution, some thirty years ago. Mr. Chase has pefor the office which should involve some familiarity with therules and principles of law, having served as a Magistrate for a period of over twenty-five years, in Oil Greek township, and the old borough of Titusville. The position is more honorary than Incretive, as the office requires about half a year's attendance at Meadville, while the law allows pay for about sixteen weeks only. But offices that are sought

It is a well recognised fact, that all the indus-tries of a country, none exert so controlling an influence upon the finances, trade and general commercial welfare of that country, as the state and condition of its agricultural resources.— More especially will this truth make itself known and felt in the United States the present year, and indeed, for so many years as we shall continue to experience the abnormal effects of an inflated currency, and the consequent detangement of values generally. Another reason yet, operates to make the prospects of the incoming crops a matter of anxious concern. It is well mown that the years upon which Presidential elections recur, are years of exceptional stagna-tion and duliness in every deportment of trade, be expected in a greater or less degree this sen-son. This, taken together with anticipated short creps and dear bread, and no grain exportation, would make a gloomy ontlook indeed. More than is often the case, is the influence of this great mediator between good times and hard times, an abund int crop, to be desired the coming season. And so fir as it is possible at this time to foreser, the reference assurance that the grain product of the United States will very largely exceed that of any previous year. For while it is of course too early to calculate upon many of the hazards through which the grain erop will have to pass before it is finally stored, yet so far as the breadth of ground put under cultivation, and the influences of the opening teason thus fir are concerned, everything is in the highest degree favorable. Futurers have no need to stay their hand on account of the lumi nency of a Presidential election. Those depressions, which an uncertain political future, and the diversion of attention from father to polities, are wont to inflict ou general trade during a protracted and exciting political convass are less felt mong those whose returns come not less surely from a bountiful soil dilligently filled, whoever may be President. It is estimated that with average luck, the grain yield of the United States the present year, will exceed by at least twenty dve per cent, that of any previous year. The circumstance of an unusual scarcity of bread studs in Europe, seems greatly to unhance the prospective value of our next grain crop There he last year's supply to well nigh expansied -The deficiency in the grow crop of last year, murrly all over Europe, is the cause of this. And although the new supply will not be realized in time to replace deficiency, yet our old stock still on hand will be freely drawn on, and all the more freely and cheaply sent abroad, because of the prospects with regard to the new erop. A bilsk foreign grain trade may be expected this summer, and that too at good prices, and a consequent flow of the pay therefore hitherward, while a realization of our agricultural hopes with regard to the

THE FIRE AT OIL CITY.—In our issue of yeserday moroing, a tire which broke out in the oil yards situated along the track of the Oil Freek and Allegheny River Railway, at Oil City, on Thursday morning last, was briefly alluded io. We have since received additional partieuars, and the live has proved fully as disastrons as at first reported. In the vicinity of the breaking out of the fire, the oil yards extended along the track, with side tracks on both sides of the main track, for the distance of about one-fourth of a mile. These yards and side tracks, together with several wooden tanks and other necessary apparatus, are used for the purpose of transterring crude oil from the local narrow gauge tank cars to the broad gauge Cleveland and New tank car lines. There is considerable leak age altending the transfer, and the earth about the side and main tracks and yards had become horoughly suturated with oil. As the passenge train bound north passed through the pards, quantity of cluders fell from the ash pan of the ougine to the track, and by the time the train had passed over the spot, the waste oil was in flames An attempt was made to quench the fire while I was confined to the main track, but it proved unaccessful, and in a very short time the flame spread to the narrow gunge tank cars on the side track on the east side of the main track, and then to two wooden tanks containing several hun-

The Scrub Grass Accident, FRANKLIN, April 50, 1868.

Editors Morning Herald : Enters Remain stream:
Captain Gray sent me word that you wished to hear from me. I will give a few items, it you can make them out, as my right hand and my wrist fortwarned me, you will not expect much. We left Emication at 2:55 p. m. on Monday, 27th, on the Vennen Civ.

the Venango City Accommodation, for Franklin. The train ran at a high rate of speed between stations, so much so that my wife was very much afraid. The road is rough and the car made a good many hard strokes, flying from side to side gove many mare acroacs, aying from sine to rice against the rails. At Scrub Grass we stopped a long time, so long that a number of us got out and walked around. In reply to the inquiries, why we staid so long, were told that we were waiting for orders. I went forward to where the engineer and fireman were sitting, and asked the time. The engineer showed his watch and I set nine by his—ten minutes to four. Very soon after the word "all aboard" was given, and we started. We seemed to go faster and faster, until about one and one-balf miles from the station, we were thrown off the track and our cur went olling down the bank into the river. It went about seventy five feet from the trac't, forty feet below, where it stopped, nearly right side

I found myself in the river and near me a man entirely helpiess, under nater. I raised bis head out of the water. At this tene I saw my wife out of the water. At this tene I saw my who and Mrs. A. M. Hoover getting on top of the ear from the inside. Seeing that my wife was able to move, I told her to stay where she was until I could get the man I was holding up to the shore. But before I could get that done, she and Mrs. floover halping one another, climbed up the bank and reached the track. The chilfren (four, I think,) were found, in the car, how much injured I do not know.

Miss Mary Marshill, who came on with Mis be expected in a greater or less degree this and otherwise bruised. After Miss Mitshill wis extrictied, I got assistance and we carried the ian I was holding—who proved to be Mr. Abijah Porterfield, an old acquaintance—on the tar roof on the bank. He recovered his consciousness after a while, and he with some others were friends. They were brought to this city sesterday. Word was sent to the station, and soon brought Mrs Hoover's husband and other assistance. After some time, a caboose was backed down and the wounded put in, and we started for Franklin. We met Dr's, Gillet and Snowden, who pateled up our head and did everything that was possible under the circumstances. I, being wet and chilly, began to feel very sore and stiff. My wife was severely bruised and injured in the back, and of course suffered from the motion of the ear. We reached Frank lin about 9 o'clock, and found plenty of friends the best of care, and have a prospect of get-ting around soon,

The statements in yesterday's Pittsburgh Commercial customly puls it wild. The dispatch from Scrub Grass contains, I think, twelve false statements in the first twelve lines; and the facts as given by Ass't Sup't. Brown are not the facts as we understand them. Some of us talked the matter over on the ground, and no one puthe speed at less than thirt; miles an hour, and some insist on sixty; and Mr Brown save a car with the fricks smashed, roof off, and the seats broken out, "to not much damaged," We think too that no asle was broken until the cars went off. The distance the car went from the track, and the next car in front being knocked to pieces, shows what such statements as Mr.

Brown's in regard to the speed amount to. The cumor that the engineer and fireman were drunk is without any foundation, for in getting the time from them at the station. I had a good opportunity to see and would have known it if it had been the case. The engineer, who has been arrested, and is now in Jul, had the appearunce of a sober, intelligent man, and the fireman by his kind attentions and care for the wounded, after the secident, showed that he was not only sober but knew just what to do in such a case. One of the passengers has told me since, that he was so alarmed for his safety, that he started to ring the hell, but, as has been the case hundruds of times, there were no ropes. The next moment the train went off.

I asked the telegraph operator who came from the station to the wreck to send a dispatch to Mr. C C. Duffield, which he sent, after aftering it to suit bimself. He said he would not be allowed to send it a I wanted it written. After we arrived in this city, I asked Col. Hughes, of Plumer, to write a long dispatch to the HERALD. The Col. found the office closed, but saw the operator on the street who said he would send the dispatch if he could. As he declined taking the money I sent to pre-pay it and from the fact that your paconcluded that neither of the dispatches wer Later-May let-I tried to send the above letter off yeterday but falled. I see by the Spec-talor, that the cars went down a bank filteen feet. To get the facts, Leent a man down L. D. Robinson, Springfield, Mass., is the pub to-day to make a careful measurement of the distance, and will give you the result. The account in the Citizen is the most correct of any i have seen jet. I have been sluce Tuesday me count of so many getting in ahead. My new coa', just got up by Ribbel, has a tear about an inch shorter than the coat. The position of tarlor to the road would be more profitable than to be a stockholder.

After meditating on the damage sustained for day or two, we looked up our insurance tickets which we had not read, to see what the profits would be. My wife was filled with admiration at this generosity of the insurance company when she read in large letters that the insured would be paid twenty-five dollars per week, it injuries were sustained. That, she says, will help to pay our expenses, but her admiration help to pay our expenses, but her admiration was changed to disgust, on reading further down, in very small letters, that women are excepted. They are very much like the receipts the New York city express companies give for baggage, the exceptions, which no one stops to read, being the main part. The wounded, as far as I know, are all getting along well. He would to be in if you need good doctors and Mad friends. I tried it once helore.
